hontas's Story Woven Into a Re mance-The Writings of Jefferson-Literary Notes, &c.

Record of Ecents in Norfolk County, Va., from Aveil 19, 1865, to May 10, 1865, with a History of the Soldiers and Sailors of Norfolk County, Norfolk City, and Portsmouth, Who Served in the Confederate States Army or Navy. By John W. H. Pohrem, a compade of Stonewall Camp, Confederate Veterans, of Portsmouth, Va. Port mouth, Va.; W. A. Frexe, printer and bookbander. 1872. Pages, 368. $1.25.

The Distances made a statement several days ago—quoting from another source, true—that but one county in Virginia had had its history written. Since then has come into our bands the above work, not, indeed, a complete history of Norfolk county from the beginning, but a history of the Confederate soldiers and sailors of the county, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth, for the four years of the war (1861-265). This is, perhaps, the only book of precisely its character and scope written in Virginia for Virginians, and if other counties follow this precedent in which was delivered. Why should not the history of the work is attributed to the received and virginians in the war would soon to forthcoming. For instance, there was the remained of the necessary material, we believe, is already in print in pamphlet form.

In the present work accuracy and fulness of detail are primarily simed at, and, we may presume, is in the main attained. The author has been very painstaking, and where he has failed to give data it was because hereing together these facts was post-poned so long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who took part in them have died since they long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who took part in them have died since they long after the properties.

"Under Sentence of the Law" is the fine of the Law" is the literal and for them had been store that had been store the demand for them had been took part in them have died since they long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who took part in them have died since they long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who took part in them have died since they long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who to be present to the long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who the scene and the properties of

of the necessary material, we believe, is already in print in pamphlet form.

In the present work accuracy and fulness of detail are primarily aimed at, and, we may presume, is in the main attained. The author has been very painstaking, and where he has failed to give data it was because he could not obtain them. "The work of gathering together these facts was postponed so long after the close of the scenes herein recorded, and so many of those who took part in them have died since they laid down their arms, that the wonder is, not that much has been omitted, but that so much has been collected and preserved. The author has given it careful study, and no accessible source of information has been neglected. He hopes, therefore, his readers will approve what he has succeeded in rescuing from oblivion, and not erriteise him for not having done better." (Page 33.)

erriteise him for not having done better."
(Page 33.)

The work is, therefore, intended as a book, not to entertain, but to be of permanent value as a record, full of facts and details, statistics and company lists, data most valuable for the historian, for the future student, and for coming generations among the citizens of Norfolk county, who will have recourse to it for dates and names and matter which might otherwise have been wholly lost.

It is only the first and last chapters that are strictly narrative—"The First Year of the War in Portsmouth" and "The Battle in Hampton Reads." The rest of the book is mainly taken up with the organization and muster-rolls of the several companies which were organized in Norfolk county. The author has "ascertained and published the names of 1,618 men from Norfolk county, of whom 280 were killed or died during the war; 1,119 who enlisted in Norfolk city companies, of whom 176 were during the war; 1,119 who enlisted in Norfolk city companies, of whom 176 were killed or died, and 1,242 from Portsmouth, of whom 199 were killed or died, making a total of 3,379 men, of whom 635 gave up their lives for the cause in which they enlisted, and hundreds of others were disabled from wounds "(preface)—this constituting a remarkably high percentage of the white male population of these cities and the county in 1861. Also, there was hardly a battle fought within the four years in the South Atlantic States, in which some or other of these men did not engage.

While so little of the contents of the book is devoted to narration, yet charac-

While so little of the contents of the book is devoted to narration, yet characteristic anecdotes of men and events are scattered all through its pages. Such are:
The attempt to blow up the dry dock (p. 24); the rifting of the Dahlgren guns (p. 25); Secretary Mallory on expenditures for a war that would be over in six months (p. 27); the scarcity of iron and metal (p. 28); the ladies' sewing circles and care for the sick (p. 29); the evacuation of Norfelk and Portsmouth—its distressing scenes and dire results as policy (p. 31-3); indignities imposed upon the Rev. John Wingfield (p. 34); difficulties between Colonel Roger A. Pryor and some of his troops (p. 21, p. 52, and p. 59); Captain Chockett's repartee and bravery (p. 28); Captain Kearns's oratory (p. 94); Pickett's charge at Gettysburg (pp. 109-113); battle of the Crater (pp. 183-89, etc., etc.

which the circumstances and details of its construction are narrated, and the author enters a strong plea for Naval Constructor John L. Portres's rights to the original designs and execution "cross the claims of Lieutenant John M. Bacors." "The Merrinac was not selected as the result of any plan, but simply because she had an engine in her which could be utilized where it was, and the Contederates lacked the facilities for building a new engine for a new boat. The burned portion of her was cut away and the weight of her armor, armament, &c., submerged the remainder, so that only her shield was out of water. It is not probable that Constructor Portran would have built a new vossel with her ends extending out under water beyond her shield. He converted the Merrimac into an iron-clad after that style through necessity, and not from choice. They were the weak points of the ship. The crew had no place for recreation and were kept in the casemate; the ends were liable to spring a leak, and being hidden from sight confused the pilot in steering, besides retarding the vessel." (Page 365).

The sketch of this famous war-ship is concluded with this judgment: "How much more glorious would have been her end, and how much higher her name would have stood in history, had her commander, instead of setting her on fire, run past Fortress Monroe and destroyed or dispersed McClellan's fleet of war-ships and transports which were lying outside the fort and in York river." (Page 365).

Poochonias: A Story of Virginia. By John R. Mystex, anther of Columbia. Es. construction are narrated, and the author persed McClellan's fleet of war-shibs and transports which were lying outside the fort and in York river." (Page 363).

Pocahonias: A Slovy of Virginia. By John R. Musuck, author of Columbia, Estevan. St. Augustine, etc. Illustrated. New York: Funk & Wagnalls Company. 1832, Pages 366. $1.50. Volume IV. of the Columbian Historical Novels.

The Funk & Wagnalls Company are bringing out a series of Columbian Historical Novels, and this is the fourth volume—all by the same author, who writes his preface from Kirksville, Mo. This preface contains the gist of the story as here told. "Any importal student of the life and times of Captain Smirs will accord him a place among the great men of the world." He planned well, executed promptly, but because of the interference of narrow-minded meddlers failed. He went through life bandicapped, and justice was never done him until long after he was beyond praise or condemnation. Smirs was unsuccessful in love as well as in business. "He passionately loved Pocahoxias. That she loved him no one can doubt. That she was deceived by ROLFE and debit of Smirs was unsuccessful in love as well as in business. "He passionately loved Pocahoxias. That she loved him no one can doubt. That she was deceived by ROLFE and believed Smirs dead there can be no question. "Chented of her tove and deceived by the man who had married her, the poor girl did not long survive the knowledge that Smirs hvod, but died of a brokea heart at Gravesend."

Which all comes in very appropriately for the discussion now raging as to whether the doughty Captain John is worthy a monument at the hands of Virginian patriots. For the obverse side of the portrait the reader is referred to Alexander Monthly.

So here we have the Pocahonias-Smith legend idealized, exaggereted, colored—all well enough, possibly, for children and the young in order to lend an interest to early Virginia history, but for serious purposes too ianciful and distorted. Here are all the elements of a rich romance. Captain Joux is a great hero. Pocaho

Virginia history, but for serious purposes too fanciful and distorted. Here are all the elements of a rich romance. Captain Jonx is a great hero. Pocanonas saves his life through a passionate love at first sught, marries another only after she is basely betrayed and thinks her hero dead, and finally meeting him again the shock is too great and she fades away. And the little children who have been listening to grandmother tell the story weep in sympathy. Rospy's "declaration" is rendered in perfectly "good form" and one to winch no princess's family might object: "Pocanonas, I love you, and with your permission will appeal to Pownara (i.e., the father) for his consent to our marriage" (page 256). At the marriage eromony the bride was dressed "in a simple tunae of white musin from the looms of Dacca. Her arms were bare to the shoulders, and hanging loosely to her foet was a robe of rich stuff presented her by Sir Thomas Dalas and fancifully embroidered by herself and her maidens. A gandy fillet enoircled her head and held the gay plumage of birds and a veil of grans, while her wrists were adorned with the simple jewelry of her native workshops" (page 258).

However, it is a well-meant production, and as a romantic, picturesque portrayal of the old conseptions, in which many others

Literary Notes.
The "Memorial Volume on the Cente nial of Washington's Inauguration," which was issued by the APPLETONS, is in steady demand. It has been most favorably noticed by the press of both England and America.

The seasons follow one another in unvarying round, and just as regularly doe Marios Crawfond put forth a new novel. The latest is announced for February, and will be called "Children of the King," and will be issued, as usual, by MacMILLAN & Co. It will be a tale of Southern Italy—that section in which the author has made his home. Machillan & Co. have arranged to issue a complete edition of Mr. Crawrogo's novel.

"Under Sentence of the Law" is the "Under Sentence of the Law" is the title of a new story by Robert Louis Structures. The hero is a dog condemned to death by a court of law in Switzerland, but preserved by petition of the villagers "to suffer perpetual muzzlement."

The issue of Two Tales for December 24th contains a new story by Rudhaud, and reintroduces Mulvaney the Elephaut," and reintroduces Mulvaney the Great.

Notes and Queries (London) is publishing a Bibliography of Mr. Gladstone's writings between 1827 and December, 1892. The first instalment reaches the year 1863. It is said that shortly after the New Year a monthly magazine will be published by a monthly magazine will be published by the new proprietors of the Pall-Mail Ga-ette. Lord FREDERICK HAMILTON is talked of as the editor.

New Scholars Recommended-Two Holiday Weddings-Misses Tuttle's Party.

New Scholars Recommended—Two Holl-day Weddings—Misses Tattle's Party. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., December 31.—A meeting of the City School Board was held vesterday. The following children were recommended for admission into the Miller Manual-Labor School: Mand May Philips, Robert Lewis Leitch, George S. Jones, C. C. Hoffman, and Walter Weissman. The city trustees will go to the Miller School on next Tuesday, where the County Board will be met, when these applications will be passed upon, after which they will be sent to the County Judge, who will make such appointments as he sees it. However, there is not a vacancy in the school at present from this (the Charlottes-ville) district. The sum of $50 was appropriated out of the school tunds for the erection of a suitable monument over the grave of Mrs. R. S. Godwin as a recognition of her long and faithful service as a teacher in the public school. Resolutions of respect were also passed by the board to her memory.

The Hon, James L. Gordon has received

The Hon. James L. Gordon has received a telegram asking him to speak at the Jackson dinner to be given by the New York Business-Men's Democratic Association the 7th of January. He expects to THE LOWEST RECORD.

The lowest point registered here by a self-registering thermometer during the cold spell was 7 degrees on the night of the scenes and dire results as policy (p. 31-3); cold spell was 7 degrees on the night of the Indignities imposed upon the Rev. John Wingfield (p. 34); difficulties between Colonel Roger A. Pryor and some of his troops (p. 21, p. 52, and p. 59); Captain Choekett's repartee and bravery (p. 88); Captain Kearne's oratiory (p. 34; Pickett's charge at Gettysburg (pp. 109-113); battle of the Crater (pp. 181-189, etc., etc.

The two closing chapters are devoted to the iron-clad "Virginia" (Merrimae), in which the circumstances and details of its construction are narrated, and the author ral sciences in Hampden-Sidney C visiting friends at the university.

N HONOR OF MISS HOLMES.

A most delightful entertainment was given by the Misses Tuttle, of the university, last evening in bonor of their triend, Miss Holmes, of Portland, Me. The music or dancing was furnished by the Charlottesvile String Band. A beautiful feast was served. Among the guests were Misses Riggs, Peyton, Woods, Gordon, C. Thornton, R. Thornton, Rosser, Winston, B. Smith, Dabney, Bryan, Minor, Mary Lyons, Ella Lyons, Messrs, J. M. Brown, E. B. Baker, C. W. Jester, D. Wright, W. L. Cochran, M. Woods, Burthe, Baughman, M. Baker, Harrison, Page, Dabney, Bronaugh, Brüss, D. Smith, Lyman, and Taylor.

Taylor.

At least 1,600 people witnessed the annual Christmas celebration at the Baptist church last evening. The exercises opened with singing, followed by prayer by the pastor, when the prizes awarded by the school were presented. A gold medal was presented to Mrs. J. B. Turpin for having brought in the largest number of scholars diving the year. Prizes were also presented to Miss Yocum, Miss Mayo, and Mr. A. C. Harlowe for the same purpose. Prizes were given to R. K. Flannagan, Master Pitman Flannagan, Manie Paoli, Superintendent E. H. Fife, Benny Sinclair, and J. C. Matthews for having attended fifty Sundays in the year, being present at 9 o'clock. Miss Eva Cleaveland, the accomplished organist of the church, was presented with a purse filled with gold and other coins. In it were coins of every denomination coined by the United States Government, the sum amounting to over $50. Prizes from teachers and scholars were then presented. PRIZES PRESENTED.

DEATH OF MRS. W. H. BURNES. John F. Lifsey a Native of Greenesville

County-Other Emporia Notes.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Emponia, Va., December 31.—Mrs. William H. Barnes died near here on Thursday.

The parties to the unfortunate affray which took place in Garysburg, N. C., yesterday, were well known here. Mr. John F. Lifsey was a native of this county and has many relatives and friends residing here.

Up to date the Clerk of the Court has issued eighty-three marriage-licenses—a gain of twenty over last year.

Mr. J. W. C. Walton, of Manchester, visited his old friends here this week.

Judge Homes, of Boydton, and Judge Turnbull, of Lawrenceville, were here on Thursday. Rev. G. T. Bradley was on our streets

Meherrin Tribe, No. 75, Improved Order of Red Men, had a nice supper Thursday

Your correspondent makes his bow and wishes prosperity to the Disparce for the coming year and expresses the hope that the good feeling between the paper and correspondent may continue as pleasant in the future as in the past.

He Has His Last Ration.

He Has His Last Ration.
WILCOX WHARP, VA.
To the Editor of the Disnatch:
Mr. Littleberry A. Waddill, a member of Company D. Third Virginis Cavairy, was a prisoner at Fort Delaware when the war ended, and when he started home was given a cracker (hard-teck), which he put in his pocket and brought home. His sister now has it. now has it.

Mr. Waddili says be was hungry enough

Mr. Waddil says he was hungry enough to eat a peck of crackers, but determined to bring this one home unless compelled to eat it to keep off starvation. It is now in a fair state of preservation. Where is there another old soldier who can show the last ration issued to him in 1865?

(Special integram to the Dispatch.)

Nonrolk, Va., December 31.—The steamer Essex, damaged by the ice on her trip from Tappahannock, was put ashore in front of the Naval Hospital, in this port, to-day to repair injuries. She reports five inches of ice near Fredericksburg.

VIRGINIA POLITICS. REPUBLICANS WILL NOT HAVE ANY

ORGANIZATION NEXT YEAR-Julione Sour on Harrison-Mr. Tacket Wanted Back in Public Life-Places for Weaver and Field Demanded.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, December 31.—A leading nan in the Republican party of Virginia, who frequently visits Washington, is of the opinion that the Republicans will not have any organization in the State next year. He doubts that they will even put a ticket in the field, and should they go through the formality of nominating candidates he thinks the canvass on their ide would amount to nothing. General. hone, the amount to nothing. General hone, the recognized head of about all that is left of the party ins Virginia, is understood to favor a passive attitude, seeming to realize, it is said, that the Democrats are unconquerable at present and will be for years to come, the causes, according to his way of looking at the situation, being due partly to the national collapse under President Harrison of the Republican party. General Mahous became sour on Harrison as soon as he was renominated at Minneapolis, and to his friends he repeatedly predicted during the campaign Harrison's overwhelming defeat. As he expressed it, "any Democrat could have beaten Harrison." Mahons began to lose faith in any further Republican success just after Boss Reed's Congress cut up such high jinks. Although he savagely opposed the seating of Langston he afterwards made up with him, and both went to the Minneapolis convention determined, if possible, to nominate some one else over President Harrison.

dent Harrison.

Other Vingunia Republicans do not agree with the Republican quoted above, except so far as to admit the probability that General Mahone will favor continued inactivity. They incline to the beitef that the Brady and Bowden wing will insist on the transfer of the probability of the product of the probability of the product of the produ putting up some sort of a fight.

ANXIOUS TO HAVE HIM BACK.

ANNOUS TO HAVE HIM BACK.

Senator Mills, Senator Carlisle, ex-Congressman Morrison, and other friends of Mr. Tucker, it is well known in Washington, would like very much to have him back in public life in Washington, and they are not over-particular regarding the position. They were all close political associates when serving together in the House, and it is conceded their influence, whatever it may be with Mr. Cleveland, would naturally be exerted in behalf of Mr. Tucker, and if it did not materially interfers with other plans they would be glad to have him appointed Attorney-General. Mr. Cleveland, it is often remarked here these days, is particularly anxious to have the Senate made up of as many pronounced tow-tarif men as possible, but it can hardly be possible, in the opinion of several Virginians who have discussed the subject, that he is looking as far ahead as the Fifty-fourth Congress, for the reduction of the tariff is the big work mapped out for the Fifty-third Congress, However, it is not yet a settled fact that the Democrats will control the next Senate, the prospect favoring the balance of power in the hands of the Populists, with a strong ret a settled fast that the Democratic control the next Senate, the pros favoring the balance of power it ands of the Populists, with a strong demand from those men that the free-coinage question must be kept to the front at the risk of defeating tariff reduction. In other words, they will likely demand liberal concessions for silver before they will consent to join the Democrats in cutting down tariff duties.

DEMANDS OF POPULISTS. DEMANDS OF POPULISTS.

The Populists are talking as if they are going to demand a good position for General James G. Field, of Albemarie county, when the officers of the Senate are changed next March. It is not yet stated that he is an applicant, but that is the inference. If the Populists hold the balance of power—and it now looks as if they will—they may demand at least one third of the good positions at the disposal of the Senate, and probably force the Democrats to such a concession. The position of Clerk is about the best of the lot. It pays well, and the Clerk has considerable patronage. The Sergeant-at-Arms is an important salaried position, too, but less ability is required than for Clerk. The late Colonel required than for Clerk. The late Colonel Canady, of North Carolina, was for several years sergeant-at-arms of the Senate. It is not among the possibilities that the friends of General Field will press him for one of these positions. General Weaver will also have to be cared for in some way, and it is not thought probable that Mr. Cleveland will give either Weaver or Field any office should their friends suggest any office should their friends sugar any such thing.

Congressman Meredith continues to im-prove. He leaves his room nearly every day and walks about his lotel, chatting with friends, but it will be some time be-fore he is well enough to actively resume his legislative duties.

Great Commercial and Educations

Centre of Southside Virginia.

Centre of Southside Virginia.
[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
CHASE CITY, VA.. December 31.—A retrospect of the progress of this town for the past year is decidedly encouraging. A little over a decade ago it was without a railroad and a place on the map. It is now the commercial and educational centre of all this section of Southside Virginia. As a leaf-tobacco market it claims to rank with any other in the tobacco belt of this section outside of the large cities.

The dwelling-houses erected in the last twelve months exceed any previous, and some of the residences are of a fine order of architecture.

FALSE PROFIETS.

About twenty years ago it was predicted by many false prophets that there would be no progress and development here, but that all this section would relapse into a wilderness on account of the absence of transportation facilities and the predomi-nance of the negre race. There is only one nance of the negro race. There is only one recognized as having been here twenty years ago, and one white man now here who was born within the corporate limits who was born within the corporate limits of the town.

PROGRESSIVE FEOPLE.

The population is about 1,000, and all new and progressive people with the shackles of the past broken loose, the prejudices of other times laid aside, and the old ruts heretofore travelled abandoned. The railroad reached here about eight years ago, and the sound of the engineer's whistle at once proclaimed advancement and prosperity for all this section. The people wanted a live town for a market and supplies and they built Chase City.

BUSINESS FSTABLISHMENTS.

The business-houses now comprise 8 general stores, 2 drugstores, 1 furniture, 8 harness and saddlery, 2 jewelry, 1 fancy grocery, 2 fiquor-stores, 3 livery-stables, 3 meat markets, 2 reataurants, 2 commodious hotels, with wonderful mineral waters; 3 large tobacco warehouses, 3 extensive tobacco-prizeries, 1 grain- and feed-store, 1 bank, with ample capital, and various shops of carpenters, blacksmiths, and wheelwrights. In education, the Southside Academy, an incoporated institution, with five professors and a large, new building; 1 graded public school, with two teachers, and the private school of the Misses Drew. There are 4 white and 1 colored churches and 1 young Men's Christian Association hall and library.

NO VACANT HOUSES. BUSINESS FSTABLISHMENTS.

NO VACANT HOUSES. There is not a yacant house in the pla Does not this exhibit show there is life in the old land yet? There are no enmities and prejudices as in olden times, and no two men who do not speak to each other, and but very few of the population who do not belong to churches of some denomination.

Everybody was very orderly during the Christmas holidays, and no disorder of any kind occurred.

The ground is covered with snow about four inches deep, and sleighing has been greatly enjoyed.

The situation of the town is 535 feet above sea-level, no streams near it, and the locality is proverbial for the general healthfulness of the people.

West Point's Subscription Ball,
[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Wrst Point, Va., December 31.—The event of the season was the subscriptionball Thursday night. The dance took place at the Masonic Hall, and the supper was served by Flickinger at the old Grove Hotel. The music was furnished by two violuse and a bass violin from Richmond.
Messrs. J. P. Turner, George Lindsay, C.
B. Powell, M. W. Nelson, and H. B.
D'Oriety were the Committee of Arrangemeuts. Mrs. H. J. Lewis, Mrs. W. A.
Tringe, Mrs. W. K. Gatewood, and Mrs. GH. Richardson were the chaperons,

The following took part in the dance; Mr. C. B. Powell and Miss Fannis Cavan, Mr. R. Pilcher and Miss Sadie Lipscomb, Mr. R. Edwards and Miss L. Edwards, Mr. W. Edwards and Miss A. Edwards, Mr. T. H. Edwards and Miss A. Edwards, Mr. T. H. Edwards and Miss Georgine Leigh, Todd Lipscomb and Miss Ada White, Mr. Kenna Richards and Miss Gena Edwards, Mr. J. W. Pisher and Miss Emma Taylor of Richmond, Mr. Willie Love and Miss Fiva White, Mr. V. Vauden and Miss Julia Weir, Mr. R. G. Horn and Miss M. Eubank of Essex, Mr. J. L. Bland and Miss Annie Wattington, Mr. H. B. D'Ogley and Miss May Smith, Mr. Willie Eastwood and Miss L. Powers, Mr. Jack Rich. THE DANCERS

Faimer and Miss Ollie Lindsay, Mr. T. M.
Tignor and Miss Susse Warburton, Mr. H.
S. Dickerson and Miss Hattie Warburton,
Mr. S. V. Southall and Miss Ellen Gatewood, Mr. J. M. Wingfield and Miss Mary
Hill, Mr. George Christian and Miss Rate
Christian, Mr. W. 21 Taylor and Miss Alice Taylor, Mr. A. Wilkinson and Mrs. Charles
Barbam, Mr. J. P. Turner and Miss Mattie
Stark, Mr. Peter Epes and Miss Barnes,
Mr. George Lindsay and Miss Belle Lindsay.

Mr. Peter West, one of our popular rail-Mr. Peter West, one of our popular rail-road men, will be married on Wednesday, in Petersburg, to Miss Lucia Jones. Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilkinson will give a reception next Tuesday evening. Mr. E. M. Stires will hold his last services here Sunday morning and after-noon. He will leave Sunday night for Norfolk, and will go thence to Augusta, de-Rev. O. M. Winston, of Prince William Charlottesville and Vicinity. Correspondence of the Richmond Diseatch.]

CRARTOTESVILLE, VA., December 31.—
Mr. Benjamin Wills, of Southside Virginia,
Is in the city, visiting his brother, Mr. F.
M. Wills, and his warm friends here.
Miss G. E. Woodward, who has been spending her holiday vacation at Mr. W.
N. Wood's, in this city, returned to her home, in Louisa county, this morning.
The Rev. Mr. Konner, a Lutheran minister, who was a student at the university last session, was in Charlottesville this week, the guest of Professor Noah K.
Davis. Mr. George Cator, of Baltimore, accompanied by Master Benjamin Cator, is visiting the latter's grandoarents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams. The Woollen-Mills' chavel Sunday-school

The Woollen-Milis' chanel Sunday-school presented their superintendent, Mr. J. T. Allison, with a pair of gold-framed eyeglasses on Wednesday evening. The presentation speech was made by the Rev. John B. Turpin.

At the Christmas service held at Christ Episcopal church on Wednesday a collection was taken for the Old Ladies' Home in Richmond.

lection was taken for the Old Ladies' Home in Richmond.
Misses Rita and Fannie Patton, of Culpeper, and Miss Eugema Grymes, of Orange, are the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Keller, at the residence of Captain T. S. Keller, on High street.
The congregations of Mt. Edand Hebron churches, through the Rev. John E. Turpin, of this city, have presented to their pastor, the Rev. Hartwell K. Hawthorne, a handsome Oxford Bible.
City-Treasurer W. T. Jones has been visiting friends in Standardsville this week.

visiting friends in Standardsville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Greenway, of Richmond, have been the guests of Mr. J. Massie Smith, at Shadwell.

Captain J. R. Bryan, of Birmingham, Ala., is spending the holidays with his family, near the university.

Mrs. Stonewall Tompkins is visiting her father, Captain C. E. Vawier, superintendent of the Miller Manual-Labor School.

Mr. F. W. Weaver, of Basic City, has been visiting friends in this city.

Mr. N. M. Page, of Batesville, one of the most valued citizens of Albemarle county, is in feeble health, much to the regret or a host of friends.

ost of friends.
Miss Mary Lamar Turpin, who spent a

Alliss Mary Lands of this week, has returned to her home, in this city.

Professor George L. Petrie, of Auburn College, Alabama, is on a visit to his parents, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George L. etrie. Mr. J. Newton Johnson, a student of the University of Virginia, session 1891, '92, new of Buffalo, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. John J. Lipop. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Payton, of Blacks-

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Psyton, of Blacas-burg, are in Charlottesville.

A pleasant reception was given Mr. Henry S. Noel and bride (new Miss Maude S. Wingfield, of this city,) on their arrival in Lynchburg Wednesday evening at the residence of the groom's father.

Dr. C. W. Rhinehart, of Kentucky, an old student and graduate of the University of Virginia as visiting friends in this city. f Virginia, is visiting friends in this city. Miss Nannie B. Davis and Mr. Clifton C. Miss Namne B. Davis and Mr. Citton C.
Garrison were married in the office of the County Clerk on Monday. The Rev. Dr. G.
L. Petric, of the Presbyterian church, per formed the ceremony.
Mr. W. J. Thornton, of this city, and

Mr. W. J. Thornton, of this city, and Miss Gertrude Ferguson, of Waynesboro', were married in Washington on Tuesd'ay. Professor A. H. Tuttle, of the University of Virginia, attended the meeting of scholars in Chicago this week to consider the relation of schools to the study of biological science. He read an important paper on the subject.

Mr. Fred. Murray, of Bloomington, Ilà, a former clerk in the office of Vice-President-elect Adiai Stevenson, who has been on a visit to Mr. J. M. Murphy, has left tor his home.

parents here.

Miss Annie Fulcher, of Staunton, is visiting Mrs. J. H. Lindsay, on First street.

Mr. J. Edwin Wood, of this city, has been visiting in Warrenton this week.

Misses Irene and Jennie Valentine, of Richmond, are the guests of Mr. R. P. Valentine. Valentine.
Miss Flossie Giddings, of Loudoun, is visiting Miss Annie Sinclair, on High visiting Miss Annie Sinclair, on High street.

Professor C. E. Young, of the Charlottesville Female Seminary, is visiting his mother in Staunton.

Mr. Frederick Murphy, a page in the House of Representatives, has been visiting his parents this week.

Miss Lillie Aronhime is visiting her sister, Mrs. Alfred Cohen, in Richmond.

Mr. Carl Haas, of the Advance force, is visiting in Baltimore.

Miss Mattie Price spent her holiday vacation in Richmond.

cation in Bichmond.
Miss Clara Bell Palmer, of the Peabody
Institute of Baltimore, will give a piano recital in this city on the 3d of January.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA. Mr. J. L. Duncan, an old student, now practicing law at Chiton Forge, was a visitor this week.

Mr. T. L. Waters is spending a portion of his holiday bere.

Miss Mollie Michie left on Wednesday

Miss Mollie Michie left on Wednesday morning for a month's visit to Annapolis. Mr. E. B. Thomasson, of Richmond, who spent a week with friends here, has returned to his home.

Mrs. Buckle gave a very pleasant tea on Monday evening, which was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Buckle gave a very pleasant tea on Monday evening, which was greatly enjoyed.

Msss Mamie Hill, of Richmond, is the guest of the Misses Thornton.

Mr. William E Peters, Jr., of Roanoke, visited his father, Professor Peters, this Miss Winston, of Hanover county, is visiting Miss Marguerite Rosser, daughter of General Thomas L. Rosser.

Messrs. Thommasson and Wilson, two young lawyers, spent a few days with friends here this week.

Wanted to Know.

(Dotroit Free Press.)

The girl was very rich and the young man was poor, but honest. She liked him, but that was all, and be knew it. One night he had been a little more tender than night he had been a read assual.

"You are very rich." he ventured.

"Yes." she replied, frankly, "I am worth a million dollars."

"And I am poor."

"Yes."

"Will you marry me?"

"No."

"I thought you wouldn't."

"Then why did you ask me?"

"Oh, just to see how a man feels when he loses a million," and the girl smiled.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

BELLES OF THE BIG CITY TAKE IN TEREST IN SKATING DRESSES.

one of the Striking Ice Tollets of the Season-Recoption, Dinner, and Ball-Hoom Gowns-Other Notes. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

NEW York, December 31 .- For the first The Configgration Scenes Described Againsteine in several years New York girls are beginning to take some interest in skating-dresses. This unterest has been the sudden result of an utusually prolonged and severe cold spell, which has given promise of sufficient duration to bestow a week or so of skating—something which has unfortunately become exceptional in our climate. There is a jauntiness about a skating-dress—a little spice of coquety—that accounts for the eagerness with which fire girls seize opportunities for displaying it. One of the most striking lee toilets that have made their appearance this season is in Havana-brown cloth, trimmed with sable. The skirt is, of course, short, reaching the instens. The waist consists of a double-breasted coat with gold buttons. The lapels are of the fur, and an edging of the fur is carried around the foot of the skirt, headed by a double band of gold braiding. Accompanying the suit is a little cloth surban surrounded with sable, and with the sable heads, and with a knot of gold cord.

Another suit in cadet blue follows the Russian model, the biouse being trimmed in boa fashion with gray fox; a band of the fur finishing the skirt. The blouse is beited with a silver girdle.

FOR FORMAL FUNCTIONS.

The present being distinctly the season of formal functions, reception-gowns and darcing-dresses swell the totals of my lady's dressmaker's bills. There are certain subtle distinctions between the most me in several years New York girls are

The present being distinctly the season of formal functions, reception-gowns and dancing-dresses swell the totals of my lady's dressmaker's bills. There are certain subtle distinctions between the most ceremonious dinner-dress and the gown intended for the bail-room which are not de sole finished with a band of the velvet bordered with the passementeric above aliuded to. The manner in which the two sides of the skirt are crossed gives in front an A-shaped panel, which is filled by what appears to be a lace petticoat, the lace being shaped over yellow satin. The sleeves are velvet puffs, double, and reaching below the elbows, with short falls of lace to finish.

EVENING SLIPPER.

"La Stella" is the title of the stylish evening slipper. It is formed of black velvet, starred with points of cut stel, whose glitter under the gas-light produces a charming effect. For wear at home in the evenings the proper thing is glace kid, black, and with a single strap over the instep. These slippers are sometimes beaded in jet, steel, or gold.

DEMI-TOILETS.

a former clerk in the office of Vice-President-elect Adlai Stevenson, who has been on a visit to Mr. J. M. Murphy, has left for his home.

Mr. W. E. Allen, Commonwealth's Attorney of Alleghany county, bas been priviled to relatives in this city this week.

Miss Etta Goldsmith, of Baltimore, who has been the guest of Misses Oberdorfer, has returned to her home.

Mr. James R. Adams, of Locust Grove, Orange county, is on a visit to his brother, Mr. R. S. Adams, at the Woollen-Mills.

Miss Fannie Harris, of Culpeper, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Orville Nalle.

Mrs. Douglass Leftwieh, of Richmond, is visiting her father, Colonel C. C. Wertenbaker, at "Wertland," near the university.

A marriage-license has been issued by the County Clerk to Mr. John Marshall and Miss Laura Toms.

Mr. John Tinsley, teacher at the Miller Manual-Labor School, is visiting his parents here.

Miss Annie Fulcher, of Staunton, is visiting Mrs. J. H. Lindsay, on First street.

OTHER PASHION NOTES. One's night-dress is distinctly "not in it" unless it is trimmed with the "Toby" frill, which has become so endeared to the designers that they reproduce it in every conceivable variation.

That is a pretty notion exhibited on some recent reception tollets—fastening the train on at the waist with a large, ornamental brooch.

Palest heliotrope and sea-foam green are the colors for tashionable stationery, and the quality of paper is that resembling stiff parchiment. Speaking of stationery, there is a new envelope, of which the flap is pointed to one side, giving it an air of decided eccentricity.

Some "Restoration" evening bodices are rather lower in their lines and more generous in their revelations than Ameri-can ball-rooms have been heretofore ac-can ball-rooms have customed to.

The "Highwayman's Coat," designed for little boys up to six years or so, is one of the jauntiest models among the many picturesque garments that have appeared among usuance "Fauntieroy" and "Greenmong us since "Fauntleroy" and "Green-way" days. Jewelled ornaments appear in many portions of the prevailing evening attire.

They are set in the centre of the corsage opening, and one is used to loop each of the large sleeves.

State Slain. [London Daily News.]

The story of the murder of the Prime Minister of the native State of Ulwa, in Northwestern India, reads more like a tale from the criminal annals of some medieval Italian principality than a record of the present day. The minister was murdered while out riding by a gang of assassins. The inquiry ordered by the Indian Gov-ernment has resulted not only in the con-vection of one of the principal military young lawyers, spent a few days with friends here this week.

ALDEMARIE COUNTY.

Coesstille.—Mr. T. J. Farrar, assistant principal of the Cove Academy, is spending in the holiday in Appomattox.

Mrs. Herbert Martin has returned from Lynchburg and will spend the winter with her mother at "Castiglione."

Miss Annie Birch, of Kleinburg School. Spent her Christmas here.

Messrs. F. H. Birch, J. M. Blain, and H. M. Blain, students at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, spent the week at this place.

Mr. Robert Hamner spent his Christmas at the national capital.

The Hev. Daniel was agreeably surprised during the gay and festive season by a severe "pounding" administered by the members of his church (Cove) and others in the neighborhood. His larder was stocked to overflowing with almost everything that could be thought of in the way of eatables.

Brown's Cove.—Miss Lutie Brown, attending school at Staunton, spent Christmas at home.

Mr. Sam Clark gave a banquet to his friends in honor of his newly-married son Henry.

Mr. Nat Early, of the University, spent his Christmas at "Fair Yiew."

Wanted to Know.

Over Ten Millions in Dividends.
(Philadelphia Ledger, December 27.)
The January payments of interest and dividands in this city are the heaviest of the year. Upon January 1st interest matures on a large portion of the national debt, and the government will pay the quarterly interest on the 4 per cents, about $5,596,600, and also $1,392,795 semi-annual interest on the Pacific railroad bonds, known as the "Currency 6's," The semi-annual interest on the debt of the city due January 1st will be paid during this week by the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, the legal agent of the city. The city interest due is $1,422,392.05, of which $548,000.55 goes into the city sinking-fund. The principal of the otty debt upon which interest is disbursed is $60,378,000, but this will be reduced by the repayment on January 1st of $354,200 6's and $400,000 4's—a total redemption of $954,200, of which $509,000 is now held by the sinking-fund. The aggregate city debt, adding $4,600,600 3's to the above (which pay interest in May and November), will be, after January 1st, $53,967,420,23. It is estimated that all the money paid in Philadelphia for January interest and dividends will exceed $10,000,000. excess of Capital in Business,

BURNING OF RICHMOND.

The Confingration Scenes Described Again Entry of the Federal Advance.

dancing-dresses swell the totals of my lady's dressmaker's bills. There are certain subtled distinctions between the most eremonious dinner-dress and the gown intended for the ball-room which are not always observed, some women imagining that one costume will meet the requirements of both occasions. For dinner toiler, it is to be remembered that if the body is open at all at the neck, the decology of the body is open at all at the neck, the decology of the body is open at all at the neck, the decology of the body is open at all at the neck, the decology of the body is of the body is of the body is of the form when the seems of the see furled the flag of the Federal Government, THE UNHAPPY EVENT.

The sun that morning rose and shone through a thin veil of unbroken cloud, as though unwilling to witness with unobstructed vision the loss of a people's hopes. His crimson disc to a poet's eye appeared to be the redness of weeping—the tears which nature shed over the unhappy event. And all day long the surging sheets of fisme, the billows of smoke, the noise of shells exploding in the arsenal, and the crash of falling walls continued and seemed a fit requiem—a death song commensurate in grandeur with the stately agony in which the soul of the Confederate capital was passing away. A COINCIDENCE.

On Friday, April 14, 1865, I left Richmond, crossing the pontoon bridge at the foot of Seventeenth street into Manchester, where, on Hull street, I took the cars for Petersburg, where I arrived about 10 P. M.—just about the hour that John Wilkes Booth shot President Lincoln that night. I brought away vivid impressions of the events which occurred during the last days of Richmond as the capital of a Which from Minerva's head full panoplied

WILLIAM A. KIRKHAM. Petersburg, December 26, 1892.

(Detroit Tribune.) The lady appeared to have gone through terrible ordeal. Her face was haggar The lady appeared a terrible ordeal. Her face was haggard, and as she alighted from the coach she trembled violently and would have falled had she not been supported.

She was the only woman in the party which had been robbed by highwaymen.

Her Faith.

"Poor thing!"
She had sunk into a chair and a doct of was bending over her.
"Where am I?" she gasped.
They reassured her with sympathetic

"Oh, it was horrible!" Burying her face in her hands she sh vered.
"But—"
A sudden gleam of triumph shone in her eyes. "I was calm in the presence of the "I was calm in the present the miscreants. My faith—"

A faint color stole into her cheeks.

"sustained me!"

"How beautiful."

"How beautiful."
There was not a dry eve in the little group gathered about the sufferer.

"Yes, it was my faith. Through it all I felt assured that my hat was on straight."
The doctor hastily wrote a prescription and withdrew.

It Wouldn't Work.

It Wooldn't Work.

[Betroit Free Press.]

Something impressed him with the belief that a Republican family lived in the house, and with a cunning smile he shuffled up to the kitchen and knocked.

"Good morning, mum," he said to the lady who appeared.

"Good morning," she replied pleasantly, "What will you have?"

"Lady," he said meekly, "my name is Harrison—Benjamin Harrison—and I ented to see if you couldn't give me a bite of breakfast."

Harrison? Harrison?" repeated the "Yes, 'em; Benjamin Harrison they calls me for short, an' tain't sitch a bad name after all, is it, mum?"

"Oh, no," she answered brightly, "it's an excellent name, but the owner of it will have to get out," and she began to sell the dog.

"Ugh," he growled, as he dolged through the gate, "I might a knowei by that cheerful look of her'n, she wiz a Democrat," and he sat down in an alley to think up a better gag with which to work the unwary.

Very Nice. [Puck.] Mrs. Tonsey: Whom did you dance with it dancing school this afternoon? Little Edith: Robby Norris. Mrs. Tonsey: And was he nice? Little Edith: Oh, yee, mamma! Just as nice as a girl !

Decidedly the Best. Young Mr. Dolley: Miss Amy, what is the best way of killing time in the winter? Amy: Sleigh it.

It's ineffective, except for the moment—the ordinary pill. Because it upsats your whele internal economy, you needn't think it's doing you good. It only shocks and weakens your system. Take sparething that's better. Dr. Pience's Pleasant Pellets do good that lasts. They regulate the system, as well as cleaned and renovate it; initidly and gently, but thoroughly and effectively—no griping, no violence. They're the smallest and the easiest to take, purely vegetable, perfectly harmiess, and the best liver pill ever known. Only one little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Siek or Bihous Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bihous Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved and cured.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're quaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Can you ask better proof of the superiority of these little pills. Now that calls are the proper thing, permit us to call your attention to our Overcoats. You'll certainly call them

ELIXIR BABEK MALARIA.

THE JOBBING TRADE. A. HUTZLER'S SONS, THE RECORD AHEAD OF THAT OF THE PREVIOUS YEAR.

Excess of Sales, $241,800-An Em-couraging Ontlook-Failures.

(Written for the Dispatch by Mr. C. P. Johnso of Bradstreet's Agency.)

exciting race to break its record of on

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1893.

THE TABULAR EXHIBIT. The sales for 1802, as shown by the following table, are $36,250,830 compared with $36,009,039 during 1891, and capital $8,070,000 as compared with $8,033,500 for

ANTICLES OF TRADE.

Class, Article or Kind. Capital in Annual Sales

Groceries and Hquors., $2,500,000 $14,568,500

510,000

565,000 325,000 375,000

60,000

- FAILURES IN 1891.

Business No. Assets Limblities.
Groceries and liquors 13 $ 17,050 $ 50,000
Tobacco and cigars 3 4,800 11,000
Clothing and shoes 3 1,200 25,150
Dry goods 2 19,000 33,000
Miscollaneous 19 67,150 127,100

FAILURES IN 1892.

Business. No. Assets Limbilities, caries and iiquors. 8 $190,440 $140,900 ming and shoes. 8 $19,300 $44,000 ccilsacons. 15 90,178 178,030

Totals......31 $210,118 $363,620 The bank clearances last year amounted to $110,740,556 in 1891—an increase of $9,133,833.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW RICHMOND THEATRE.

THE LITTLE BLACKSMITH.

MOZART ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

A PARISIAN ROMANCE.

MEETINGS-First Monday.

IVANIOS IDDE, KNIGHTS OF TYTHIAS.
RICHMOND LODGE, ODD-FELLOWS.
RDHANGLA THISE, RED MEN.
- ER COUNCIL, PWATERNAL CIRCLE.
EAST-WID LOOSE, ORDERN CHAIN.

PATRICE BRYRY COUNCIL, MECHANICS.

MOILE AT A RICHARD TO THE STREET THE STREET

HENRICO UNION LODGE, MASONE. STONEWALL CLUB, NO. 35, LYCKUM LEAGUE OF

A NEW-YEAR'S CALL

is an occasion of congratulation. But such a call at our store is doubly so, because every caller becomes a lucky purchaser, and we exchange congratulations over the fact. Profitable purchases are especially pleasant now. when pleasant experiences are in order.

Tenth and Main Streets.

LER COUNCIL, MECHANICS.

the previous year:

Boots and shows....

lanes and organs.

ves and tinware...

stery. Vood and willowware

Millinery... Sporting and rubber goods....

315 EAST BROAD STREET.

Not everybody can afford to wait for Mark-Down Sales

The jobbing trade of Richmond had an year ago. The effort, however, was successful. The year 1892 leads with an increase in capital of $35,500 and an increase in sales of $211.800. This record places

Richmond foremost among the commer-cial centres of the country, and in all probabilities she is far ahead of other will be fully repaid for waiting; we have over our stock of CLOAKS, and, with a denation to carry over as few as possible, we not only out out all the produc in making prices, but in some testances we are doing better than that. uthern seaboard cities in the matter of actual advancement made during the past Cloaks Must be Sold,

The earlier months of 1892 were disappointing to merchants at all the distributing centres of the country, but more particularly to those in the cities of the South, owing to the overproduction of cetton, extreme depression in prices of the raw staple, and an overstrained system of credits. The volume of business naturally decreased at Richmond as well as at other cities.

Winter Dress Goods A CHANGE FOR THE METTER.

A change for the better, however, took place in the fall, and, as demonstrated by the increases noted above, Richmond took advantage of the opportunity to regain lost ground. In the dry-goods branch of trade there was a falling off all around. In many of the other branches one, two, or three houses were about even or reported slight decreases; but others made material advancement, which brought up the total abead of 1891. An improvement in prices in the latter part of the year also had a tendency to increase the amount of sales. Extreme conservatism has prevailed, and losses from failures have been smaller this year, making the margins of profit—the most important thing in the long run—fair. are receiving the same kind of attention to we are paying to WINTER WRAPS; it is longer a quastion of profits, but when the end a season approaches the careful merchant ru a race with the weather to clean out the unse-sonable materials that would otherwise have went for another year to Give Them a Chance,

Of course, there are some who want neither WRAPS nor DRESS GOODS just now; but the probability is that these are looking for HOUSEKEEPING GOODS

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1892.

The outlook for the present year is the most encouraging in the history of the Richmond trade. Southern farmers have diversified their crops. They have purhased carefully and owe but little money. The factors in the South report that they have advanced less money than for many years past, and are of the opinion that many planters will own their own crops the coming season, for the first time in their history. The Richmond near-by jobbing trade continues to show signs of improvement, and our merchants are steadily pushing forward into more distant fields which legitimately belong to Richmond trade on account of geographical position and natural advantages. Richmond travellers are not only found in every section of the South, but in most cities of the North and West. The jobbing trade of Richmond will probably show increases the present year from 20 to 30 per cent. BLANKETS were never so low in price are this season; they probably nover will be low again; so there is just now a combina between the prices and the weather as rep Blank ETS, and both of them are in favo

COMFORTABLES, RUGS, CARPETS MATTINGS, OIL-CLOTHS, LACE CURTAINS,

CROCHETED SKIRTS, FLANNELS, and WOOLLEN UNDERWEAR

At Reduced Prices.

TABLE-LINENS, NAPKINS. DOILIES. TOWELS. SERETINGS. STAMPED COVERS,

A. HUTZLER'S SONS, 315 EAST BROAD STREET.

R PMOVAL. We are now open at 207 east Broad street.
Come and see our new place. We are carrying everything in the latest designs. Our stock is unsurpassed in all details. Only first-class workmen are employed, and we guarantee our representations in every respect.

THE BOOTH WALL-PAPER COMPANY,
J. WILLIS HEWITT, Manager. is i-1t

REMOVAL. ARTHUR M. GUNN, LUMBER-DEALER, bas

removed to
529 WEST BROAD STREET, 90,00 where he will be pleased to see his friends and the public generally and furnish them with any grade and description of LUMBER, SHINGLE-or LATHS.
Bills of Lumber cut in order. de 18-codim Total..... $8,100,000 $36,250,830 The following is a comparative statement of the following in Richmond during 1891 and 1895.

RAILROAD LINES. BY IN COMMENT PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE P

JANUARY 1, 1893. ROUTE TRAINS LEAVE RICHMOND, BROAD-STREET STATION.
8:00 A. M. Except Sunday, for local stations, and Newyort News.
9:00 A. M. Daily, vestibute special, with Puliman, for Williamsburg, Newport News, Hampton, Oli Point, Norfolk and Portsmouth. Makes no other stops.

3:00 P. M. Daily, with Pulman for local stations, Newport News, Old Point, Norfolk, and Forsanouth.

8:05 A. M. Local train, except Sunday, for Ciliton Forge, Connects at Goodonsville for Washington, at Virginia Midland Junction for Lynchburg, at Basic City North and South and at Staunton for Winchestor.

2:00 P. M. Daily, for Cincinnati and Chicago,

Gordonaville daily with local train for Staunton.

10:45 P. M. Local train, daily, for Doswelt.

10:45 P. M. Daily, for Cinclinati and Chicago with Fullman for Cinclinasti, Ibanaville and St. Leuis and dining-ar ville and St. Leuis and dining-ar to Marville. Connects at Covington, Va., for Virginia Hot Springs daily and at Huntington for Lexington, Ky., and Louisville.

TRAINS LRAVE EIGHTH-STREET STATION.

10:00 A. M. Daily, with parker-car, for Eyuchburg and Clifton Forgs. Connects except Suniay, with sleeping-car, for Lynchburg. Train leaves Lynchburg at 7:15 A. M. daily to Lexington Va.

TRAINS ARRIVE AT RICHMOND, BROAD-STREET STATION.

11:30 A. M. Daily, from Continuati.

2:00 P. M. Daily, from Norfolk and Old Point.

2:00 P. M. Daily, from Norfolk and Old Point.

6:30 P. M. Daily, from Norfolk and Old Point.

200 P. M. Daily, from Cincinnan and Louisvillo.
6:30 P. M. Daily, from Norfolk and Old Point.
7:30 P. M. Except Sunday, from Clifton Forge.
10:30 P. M. Except Sunday, from Old Point.
TKAINS ARRIVE EIGHTH-STREET STATION.
8:20 A. M. Except Sunday, from Lynchburg and Lexington. Vs.
6:10 P. M. Daily, from Lynchburg and Clifton Forge.
JOHN B. POTTS.
0:28

Division Passenger Agout.

A TLANTIC-COAST LINE RICHMOND AND PETERSBURG RAILROAD TIME-TABLE.

Commencing SUNDAY, January 1, 1893, as 9:30 A. M., trains on this road will run as fol-

TRAINS SOUTHWARD. No. Richmond. Petersburg.

45 *9:00 A. M. 9:35 A. M. Norfolk special 23 *9:15 A. M. 10:00 A. M. Through train. 43 *12:20 P. M. 1:00 P. M. Accommodat's 27 *2:48 P. M. 3:25 P. M. Fast mail. 39 *3:10 P. M. 3:50 P. M. Accommodat's 35 *5:35 P. M. 6:35 P. M. Norfolk train. 15 *8:30 P. M. 9:15 P. M. Through train. 37 *11:30 P. M. 12:10 A. M. Accommodat's TRAINS NORTHWARD.

14 *2:40 A.M. 3:40 A.M. Fast mail.
32 *7:40 A.M. 8:30 A.M. Accommodat's
34 *9:50 A.M. 10:30 A.M. Norfolk train.
38 *1:35 P.M. 2:15 P.M. N. & W. con Ye.
78 *5:20 P.M. 6:20 P.M. Through train.
66 *5:50 P.M. 6:30 P.M. Through train.
46 *6:00 P.M. 6:40 P.M. Norfolk special.
42 *7:05 P.M. 8:00 P.M. Accommodat's

Overcoats. You'll certainly call them Al, and you'll be dead right if you do. In January snow falls, and so do prices, and if the snow does go quickly the low prices are better stayers. Don't stay too long, though, but catch the bargains while they're here. Spring is coming, when the snow and low prices will go together.

- Daily.

Train 27 is limited and will have only Pulman Eurett Sleeping-Cars. No extra charge in addition to drest-class passage rate and regular Pullman car fare.

STOPPING-PLACES.

Nos. 14, 27, 45, 49, and 60 make no stops. Nos. 15, 23, 34, 38, 39, 43, and 78 stop on alm at Manchestor. Drewy's, Centralia, and Chestet. Nos. 32, 35, 37, and 42 will stop on all through trains. Ou Train Nos. 37 and 32 Sleeping-Car on all through trains. Ou Train Nos. 37 and 32 Sleeping-Car on all through trains. Ou Train Nos. 37 and 32 Sleeping-Car on All through trains. Ou Train Nos. 37 and 32

de 16-sod Richmond, Va. BOOK AND JOB WORK MEATLY BEECUTED AT THE DISPATCE PAINT

NEW LINE TO ATLANTA, GA.

Leaving Richmond 2:15 A. M. daily and arriving at Weldon at 12:10 P. M., and at Atlanta at 0 A. M. ets S. A. L. Through sleepersRichmond to Wellon and Weldon to Atlanta
THEONLY ALL-RAIL LINE TO NORFOLK.